Neighbor Resolution Suggestions

- Introduce yourself to your neighbors even before an issue arises. You can help prevent unnecessary conflicts just by taking the time to introduce yourself and say, "Hi, Neighbor!"
- Sometimes individuals are not aware that their actions are offensive others. One of the best solutions is to talk to the offending person or persons. A simple and courteous conversation can often solve many issues.
- If you do not wish to contact the offending individual in person, consider sending them a polite letter asking them to help you with the issue.
- Consider contacting the on-site office. They might be able to help you with the issue.
